📏 We create canvas prints only, not set oil paintings.

There is a basic reason for not framing the oil paintings.

The hand-painted oil paintings are extremely precious and the risk of damage during transport of stretched onto a frame painting is too high.

You can mitigate the risk of damaging and handling the painting when it is stretched onto a frame.

The second reason is the poor response of the framed paintings and canvas (sometimes of the large dimensions).

Sometimes postage costs go beyond the price of the painting itself.

*We ship our oil paintings rolled-up. You will be able to stretch and frame your canvas in your local frame-shop.
